Harderwijk, March 2018

This year, AWL-Techniek is again one of the best managed companies of the Dutch medium-sized and large companies. On Thursday March 8 last, Piet Mosterd, Director External Affairs at AWL, had the pleasure of receiving this distinction during a gala in honor of the Best Managed Companies.

Deloitte organized the Best Managed Companies (BMC) program for the tenth successive year. AWL was selected as one of the 51 Best Managed Companies from the different BMC studies. AWL scored high on "Strategy and Policy Making" and on "People and Culture". On the other pillars, AWL also scored more than sufficiently.

"Being Best Managed Company for the sixth time, year on year, shows that we are able to develop, improve, grow and succeed on gaining good results each year in a demanding market," according to Piet Mosterd, Director External Affairs.

This model was developed together with Utrecht University. The Best Managed Company program focuses on Dutch companies with a turnover of at least twenty-five million euros, that are financially healthy and have shareholder management or independently authorized management.
